The weather may be cooling down, but there's never a wrong time to daydream about sea air and perfectly arranged lounge chairs. With so many jaw-droppingly gorgeous seaside resorts on both the East and West coasts, it's difficult not to picture yourself sipping a tasty treat oceanside and letting the day-to-do responsibilities fade away just about any time of year.

If you're ready to plan your next escape, consider a seaside resort for a peaceful winter retreat, or book in advance to look forward to a refreshing and revitalizing trip in the springtime. You can venture to Maine to visit a property that's just as enjoyable in the fall and winter months as it is in summer, or head to Orange County for endless summer vibes at Montage Laguna Beach.

Whichever coast you choose, be sure to pack a swimsuit and prepare for ultimate relaxation as you listen to the serene sounds of crashing waves at one of these seaside resorts.

CLIFF HOUSE IN NEDDICK, MAINE

This oceanfront destination sits just on the edge of the Atlantic Ocean in southern Maine. It boasts panoramic ocean views, gorgeous wedding and event venues, and a luxurious spa and wellness center. You'll wake up to the smell of salty sea air before a day of pampering in the Spa Sanctuary and relaxing in the cliffside infinity pool.
