8 U.S. Solo Travel Destinations You Probably Haven't Thought Of

Cape Neddick, Maine

If lighthouses, coastal charm, and all the lobster sounds appealing, check out this under-the-radar town in the Pine Tree State. Slink into the welcoming embrace of Cliff House, perched upon craggy cliffs where the Atlantic meets the shore and has a newly renovated spa complete with floor-to-ceiling windows overlooking the ocean. Second, you'll never know what characters you'll meet at the S'mores pit or any of the other resort's nightly activities.
